

New Directory Makes Bow On Campus Today

Obtainable In Different Buildings And Tuck Shop

TEN CENTS A COPY

Extremities Of Earth Meet In Cosmopolitanism Of Student Body

Today, the Students' Directory makes its fourth annual appearance on the campus. The Directory is compiled, published, and distributed under the direction of the Students' Council, and for the first time they are levying a small charge of ten cents per copy. Copies of the Directory are obtainable in the various University buildings, as well as in the Union Tuck Shop.

The Directory has been found to be an invaluable publication to most of the students. It will no longer be necessary for the students to search through hundreds of thousands of names in the telephone directory for somebody's telephone number, and then get the wrong number.

The names of the students attending the University are arranged in alphabetical order with the respective faculties, years, city addresses, home addresses and telephone numbers. The Directory is one of the students of the University proper. The Theological students although they are included in the list of names, are not members of McGill University but of the affiliated Theological Colleges.

Heading the list of names in order of number is Smith with twenty three. The names Brown, Cohen, and Jones follow closely on the heels of Smith. Students from the nine provinces of the Dominion are in attendance at the University. These, of course, make up the majority of students. There is a representation of twenty-four states of the United States while the British Isles comprising England, Ireland, Wales and Scotland rank third in the number of students registered at the University.

Meds Will Hear Prof. J. B. Collip

Co-discoverer Of Insulin To Speak

Dr. J. B. Collip, head of the Department of Biochemistry, will address the meeting of the Medical Undergraduate Society next Monday night. Professor Collip was one of the Toronto group that did the research on insulin in connection with diabetes. After leaving the University of Toronto he went to the University of Alberta, where he was professor of Biological Chemistry for several years.

When Dr. A. B. Macallum retired from the Department last year, Dr. Collip came to McGill to head the Department of Biochemistry. He is at present engaged in research in connection with the function of the Parathyroid, and his lecture before the Medical Undergraduate Society will be on this endocrine gland.

The function of the various endocrine glands receives but scant attention in most text books, due to the fact that the knowledge of them is, as yet, far from complete. Added to this is the fact that most text-books cannot keep pace with the research that is going on in connection with the subject of endocrinology. Due to the fact that Dr. Collip has done much of the original research on the Parathyroid Gland and its secretion, his lecture on Monday night presents an opportunity to become cognizant of how far the research has proceeded.

Mr. J. S. L. Brown, case reporter, has announced that this meeting's report will not be so complicated as the last two which have been presented. In spite of this, diagnosticians should get a copy of the report on Friday.

Dental Undergrads

Dr. Lowry will speak on "Prosthetics" at the next meeting of the Dental Undergraduate Society which will be held tonight in the Assembly Hall of the New Medical Building. This is a very important meeting and all Dental Undergraduates are urged to attend.

Smokes and refreshments will be served while music will be supplied. All Pre-Dental students as well as the regular members of the Dental Undergraduate Society are advised to be present.

"Pinafore" Work Well Advanced

No Pastor Competition Due To Lack Of Time

REHEARSAL TONIGHT

Only Two Weeks Remain
Before Production Dec.
14-15

Due to lack of time, it has been decided that no pastor competition will be held this year for the official poster and program cover for the forthcoming Choral Society production on "H.M.S. Pinafore."

Vic Rose, well known Theologian and chorist, is designing several posters. Already some have appeared on notice boards about the University and more will be seen shortly.

Student exchange tickets are now on sale by class representatives. These will be exchangeable on Wednesday next so it is important that they be secured early, as an unprecedented rush is being expected after the beginning of the month. H.M.S. Pinafore is being produced at the University of Toronto on Saturday the 15th.

Tonight will see a rehearsal of the entire cast in the McGill Conservatorium of Music under the direction of Mr. Clapperton. Already preparations are well under weigh and signs indicate a finished production of a standard well up to any amateur performance. Beside special rehearsal for the entire company extra practices are being conducted for the male chorus which forms a very essential part of Gilbert and Sullivan operas.

For those interested in Gilbert and Sullivan operas, it may be remarked in passing that "H.M.S. Pinafore" or "The Lass That Loved a Sailor" is the third oldest opera by that brilliant and humorous pair, being produced at the Opera Comique in London. The first night was a success, but press notices to the effect that Gilbert would turn his abilities into a more serious channel killed some of the following periods.

Weather Is Normal

Four Inches Of Snow Have Fallen This Month

Weather, during the month of November, has been running true to form, according to McGill Observatory officials. Higher temperatures, accompanied by light snowfalls, are prevailing in this part of the St. Lawrence Valley.

Yesterday morning, the temperature jumped 10 degrees from the early minimum of 19. During the morning, three-tenths of an inch of snow fell, bringing the total fall for the month up to approximately four inches.

First Flight Today

Members of the McGill Light Aeroplane Club, who have been selected for their first flight today, must be out at the Cartierville flying field at 3 p.m. sharp. Those driving with Mr. Le Moire will meet in the Arts Building at 2:30 p.m. There will be no flying should it rain.

Those members who are in arrears, are requested to pay as soon as possible. The members should also keep in mind the smoker which will take place on Monday, December 3, at 8 p.m., in the Queen's Hotel.

Canadian Team Nears Close Of Debating Tour

Scored Thirteen Victories
Over British Universities

NOW AT CAMBRIDGE

Fine Receptions In Every City Reported By Alexander

Cambridge, England, Nov. 28.—(Special Cable to McGill Daily).—At the Cambridge Union last night Lockhart and Kenny proposed that the continued existence of the United States is a menace to the best interests of the world. Elliot and Alexander opposed and carried the opposition by a majority of 130.

Kenny and Alexander are staying at Trinity Hall, the old college of Colonel Bovey.

B. M. Alexander, McGill representative on the Canadian Debating team now touring the Universities on the British Isles, has been sending reports by cable of all the debates participated in by the team. Fuller details of their activities have just recently been received by mail, and they contain some interesting facts as to the successes of the Canadians.

The debaters have so far appeared in some twenty universities. They have taken part in three Mock Parliaments, while in three debates the Canadians opposed each other. In the fourteen they have been successful in all except one at Bristol University.

Kenny and Alexander are delighted with the receptions which they have received at the English Universities. At Exeter almost half of the student body which consists of about 500, was at the station to greet them.

In Scotland, they were the guests of Lord and Lady Minto, and as guests of His Lordship, played over the famous Royal and Ancient golf course. Leeds University was quite

France's Fate To Be Decided

Societe Will Parody The French National Assembly

"Comment la France doit-elle être gouvernée?" is the question to be considered at the meeting of the Societe Francaise this afternoon. The members will imagine themselves to be "Deputies" to the French National Assembly, and the Common room at the R.V.C. will be made to look as possible like the "Chambre des Deputes" at Paris.

The situation to be portrayed is briefly this—The assembly has reached an impasse, no ministry can secure a working majority, the French people disgusted with their representatives demand that something be done immediately, so each speaker in turn will try unsuccessfully to gain the support of the meeting for his schemes of government with the final triumph of the anarchists and utter chaos.

Mme Furness will speak a few minutes as leader of the government, that is chief of the Liberal party. Prof du Roure will advance the platform of the Monarchists, and Dr. Villard as head of the Communists will try to gain the support of the meeting. R.V.C. speakers will uphold all other recognized and unrecognized, possible and impossible theories of government.

The chairs in the Common Room will be arranged in a semi-circle and all members with conservative opinions are to sit at the right, and those with liberal views at the left. The reactionists will be at the extreme right, the anarchists at the extreme left and all the others beginning at the left in more or less the following order—Anarchists, communists, radicals, socialists, liberals, conservatives monarchists, and reactionists.

The executive announce that the National Assembly seems to be an easy object to satirize, as any Deputy is at liberty to interrupt any other at any time, injurious epithets are quite in order, and the meetings generally are rather chaotic. Any freewheeling will be permitted at this meeting, since even the most estimable institutions may be parodied unmercifully.

The Marseillaise will be sung before and after the discussion to give it colour. At the conclusion of the meeting the fourth French revolution will break out, and tea will be served.

Missionary To Address S.C.A. At Luncheon

Known the world over as a missionary to the intellectuals, Rev. E. Stanley Jones, D.D., who has addressed students all over the world and who is becoming increasingly noted as an author, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon in Stratheona Hall on Saturday, Dec. 1st. Since this is to be Dr. Jones' only appearance in Montreal the meeting will be open to the public as well as to students.

Dr. Jones has been for many years a missionary to the Brahmins and higher castes among the Hindus. He meets the educated men of India in public meetings, inviting questions on Christianity, or gathers them into round table conferences on religion. His success in this work has led him to extend the field of his endeavours to other countries and has given him a story of intense interest to audiences of both students and laymen. His appeal to educated and cultural Hindus where scholars of less ardent temperament have failed is regarded as one of the unusual successes of modern Christian missions.

Thomas Is Guest Of Labour Club

Was Candidate in Recent
U.S.A. Elections

SPEAKS DEC. 17TH

First Student Papers Will Be Delivered At Next Meeting

Ex-Senator Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate in the recent United States election will be the guest speaker at a supper to be held under the joint auspices of the McGill Labour Club and the S.C.A. on Monday December 17th. It was announced yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Labour Club. He will probably speak on the "Socialist Outlook of the U.S.A."

Plans were made for student papers to be delivered during the session of its regular meetings. The first two of these will be given on Monday, December 10th by A. H. Zaitlin and Phil Matthews. The former will deal with the Miner-Harvester problem, while the latter will speak on the causes of the sudden influx of this class.

It is planned to have in addition to the student speakers, some four or five prominent men and women speaking on different labour problems. The dates of these meetings will be announced in the near future.

The following papers and topics will be discussed: International Labour Office at Geneva, Militarism in the Schools and Universities, The Prospects and the Program of the Labour Party in England, and a review of Shaw's "Intelligent Women's Guide to Socialism."

Bridge Playing To Start Soon

Officers Elected At Meeting
Yesterday — Men Only

That the Bridge Club consist of men only was definitely decided at a meeting of the men held yesterday afternoon. Arrangements were made for all necessary steps, and an executive was elected for the current session.

The following officers were chosen: President, P. S. Wise; Vice-Pres. M. Glasco; Sec-Treasurer, H. B. Lande.

It is expected that accommodation will be secured either at the Union or at Stratheona Hall, where weekly or bi-weekly games will be arranged. It will also be possible for members to have impromptu meetings whenever they so desire, by merely getting together a foursome and submitting the membership card.

Due to the fact that tables will have to be bought, as well as cards, score pads, etc., a resolution was passed that a fee of fifty cents should be levied on each member. It was stated that all men students desiring to join the Club should register in Bill Gentlemen's office as soon as possible inasmuch as the first games are expected to be held some time next week.

Seniors' Photos Must Be Taken By End Of Week

Forms Obtainable From Faculty Representative

AT NOTMAN'S

Individual Photographs To Be Run Together In Alphabetical Order

By the end of this week, according to an announcement made yesterday by the Annual Board, all Seniors will have been photographed. This means that some 200 men and women students will present themselves at Notman's after having secured their receipt forms from the faculty representatives on the board.

When interviewed yesterday, the editor-in-chief, O. S. Markham, expressed the hope that as many as possible appear between the hours of 9 and 10, and 5 and 6, so that all the Annual-Graduation pictures be taken without disappointing any expecting to get degrees this year. It was pointed out that to date the members of R.V.C. 29 are the most dilatory in appearing at the photographs.

The Annual this year will be slightly different from all former annuals in that all the individual photographs will be run together and not as heretofore, faculty by faculty. By this it is hoped too that the book will be more a University book than formerly. The representatives of the Annual have met several men from firms both in and out of town, and it is hoped that the tender will be awarded with in the coming week.

The Annual Board have not as yet decided to whom to dedicate "Volume 32" but it is certain that at the beginning of the book there will appear the photographs done in delicate coloring of the visitor to the University. Viscount Willingdon, Chancellor Dr. E. W. Beatty, Principal and Vice-Principal Dr. C. F. Martin. It is the hope of the Annual

Sketching Trip Lecture Topic

Three Students Address
Architectural Society

"I know more about French Canadian Architecture now than I did before this lecture," said Prof. Traquair last night after three of his students had addressed the Architectural Society on a sketching trip to Quebec and vicinity. The student speakers were C. H. Copeman, J. C. Merrett and R. A. Montgomery. Fred Taylor, president of the Society, was in the chair.

Copeman, delivering the first paper spoke on the French-Canadian Churches along the north shore of the St. Lawrence beyond Quebec. He pointed out the general characteristics of the work and emphasized the delicacy and spirit of the work.

He concluded with a number of lantern slides illustrating the work he had covered.

Montgomery, speaking next, told of the buildings visited in Quebec City. After describing the carvings and furniture found at the Seminary, the Hospital-General and the Ursulines Convent, he dwelt at greater length on some unique panelling found in a house on St. Peter St.

Merrett, the third speaker, described a one-day trip to the Island of Orleans. After a brief introduction to his subject he went on to his lantern slides, which covered the tour of the island completely.

The speaker made a few remarks on each slide as he presented them.

Hon. Peter Heenan Unable To Attend

Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor of Canada, has informed the executive of the Debating Union Society that he will be unable to be present at the debate on the 5th of December in the Union. The debate will nevertheless take place.

Sir Arthur Postpones Return Until Spring

Sir Arthur Currie, Principal of the University will not return from Europe until spring, it was learned today.

Although Sir Arthur is in good health, his physician, Lord Dawson of Penn, has advised him not to return to his active duties as yet. Sir Arthur is at present in London and will remain there until after Christmas. His plans for the rest of the winter are not definitely made, except that he will be back in Montreal early in the spring.

Specialties To Feature Revue

Heads Of Departments Meet
At Luncheon Today

CASTING SOON

Large Number Of Skits And Songs Have Been Received Already

The Red and White Revue of 1929 will go far in uncovering latent stage material at McGill. Perhaps more than any previous McGill show, the producer and others in charge of the presentation are on the search for people who can do specialties, and for singers and dancers. The movement toward the discovery of such talent is just starting, and if the ambitious plans of those in charge crystallize, the McGill show will not only make a hit, but will also make a definite contribution to the speaking stage of comedy and music.

Work on the student production has been going ahead rapidly in the past few days, and a number of skits and songs have been received. The work of adapting these for the Revue is now going on, and judging from advance reports, the material is well above the average. The heads of departments in the revue are meeting today at the first regular luncheon, and it is likely that in the course of a few of these meetings, the show will be planned from start to finish.

Casting is to start shortly, and those who are chosen to take part in the skits will have time to study their lines, and rehearse long enough to give the production a professional tinge. With the skits being staged at an early date, the standard of acting in

Suffragettes At McGill Ask Equal Rights

Petition Signed By 250 Women Students

ONLY ONE HOUSE-WIFE

Curious Hidden Ambitions
Of Co-eds Discovered
On List

That women should keep their rights of nationality when they marry, and should have equal rights before the law, is the opinion of the majority of McGill women students. A petition to this effect has been signed by 250 of them and will be forwarded, with others from universities all over the world, to the Hague and Geneva to be passed. It is hoped by the committee for the Codification of International Law, and the League of Nations, respectively.

This movement has unearthed many secret and curious ambitions amongst the R.V.C. students. An examination of the column where they have written their future occupations shows that there are about fifty different things they want to do. By far the greatest number intend to teach, or to go into business, but there are journalists, politicians, doctors, authors, musicians, artists and one actress, too. The more learned vocations are well represented on the list—there is one psychologist, a biologist, several economists, and even an anthropologist. One young woman intends to be an efficiency expert, one to be a farmer, another claims that her aim in life is to run a non-sectarian laundry, and there is even one who intends to be a house-wife.

That these petitions are to be taken in all seriousness, was attested by Betty Archdale in an interview yesterday. She pointed out that the confusion now existing in women's status all over the world, "Canadian woman," she stated, "married to an American is nothing at all. She loses

Sophs Debate Co-Education

Arts Men Talk Today On Value Of System

Co-education, and its positive and negative values will be discussed today at the fourth meeting of the Arts 71 Debating Society. The meeting will be held in Room 70 of the Arts Building at 4 p.m. The local phase of this problem has already been discussed in part by the McGill Debating Union, but at the soph gathering, the matter will be thrashed out in respect to the university system in general.

Edward Reid and J. G. McNaughton will side with the cause of the co-eds, and it is rumored that they are preparing some effective ammunition for the onslaught. Bill Sprenger and Russell Talbot Payton will oppose the issue. Each team is confident of overwhelming victory.

Announcement was made yesterday that but three days remain before orders will be closed for class-pins, and that no orders will be received after next Saturday at 1 p.m. Already approximately forty orders have been received, but as over twice that number signed the voting list, it is evident that all are not yet in.

At the present time a few members are absent from classes due to sickness. Friends of these students should book orders for them, so that they may retain some memento of their period at McGill. The pin committee stated yesterday that pins would be in the hands of those who ordered them by December 17th.

Cheap Fare Offered For Trip To West

Students who intend to go to the West over the Christmas holidays may have a chance of travelling at reduced rates with the further possibility of having a special car to themselves. The railway is offering reduced fare to parties of ten or more while if there is a sufficient number who wish to take advantage of this opportunity a car may be provided for their use. It is believed this is the first year that such a party is being arranged.

All students who intend to go west for the holidays are asked to get in touch with A. J. Fleming before December 6th. Fleming can be reached at Up. 5073 after 6 p.m.

MONTREAL, THURSDAY, NOV. 29, 1928.

THE TIME FOR ACTION IS NOW

Considerable correspondence and a large number of interviews on the question of the sale of beer in the Union have been published in the columns of this newspaper. Though many contributors have chosen to discuss the question in allegedly humorous vein, the matter is one that deserves serious consideration. Further, it is a question upon which influence should not be brought to bear upon the student body, but upon which each student should be allowed to express whatever opinion he sees fit in an effective way.

There is only one effective way of expressing student opinion effectively and that is through the medium of a referendum. Next Tuesday, students of the various faculties will be asked to elect representatives to the Students' Executive Council. This would be an excellent time to hold such a referendum upon the subject, the Students' Executive Council should order such a referendum held.

To take any other step in the matter, or rather to refuse to take the only obvious step can only mean that our student governors are side-stepping a live issue. They were not elected to side-step issues; they were elected to face them.

We came across the following report in a sister college's daily journal, which we would draw to the attention of all.

"A man with aggressiveness, confidence in his own ability, and who is practical in knowledge and practice, is the type of man who usually meets with success in life after he graduates from college," said Mr. A. H. Gurney at Brown College lately.

I have seen men," said Mr. Gurney, "who have been brilliant students in college, but in later years they have literally swallowed into oblivion simply because they were not practical."

"But if a man can make Phi Beta Kappa and apply himself to any position he is certainly a much better man than one who possesses just a certain amount of 'common sense.' An honor student has more material with which to work. He has a better background and is better acquainted with the world with which he is to deal after he graduates. 'Certainly,' said Mr. Gurney, 'I would consider a man with honor grades and practical ability much better fitted for positions than men who are just mediocre in the college record even though they may be said to be practical.'

"Knowledge and practicability," believes Mr. Gurney, "is not all that is necessary for a man to achieve success." He must have energy and a certain amount of aggressiveness. A college graduate should have confidence in himself, but it is another matter whether he makes the people with whom he is working realize that he has this confidence. It is making people feel your presence that Mr. Gurney believes to be aggressiveness. "By aggressiveness I do not mean obtrusiveness," said Mr. Gurney. He believes that a man should be retiring, unassuming, but show his associates that he knows "what he is about."

All of which agrees with what Dean MacKay of the Faculty of Arts said two years ago when he told the students of the faculty of Arts that the position they would occupy later in life was determined greatly by the position they occupied while at college. Mr. Gurney, at Brown, laid emphasis on certain qualities which all successful undergraduate office-holders must possess and which remain with the student after graduation when he enters on life as a citizen.

MISS CRABBE'S COLUMN

Dear Readers,

My article for this week is a discussion on rouge and lipstick and is entitled "Save the surface and you save all". I really do not know why it is that the younger generation is addicted to this foolish habit of painting and powdering, for in my day it was considered a terrible thing to be "two faced". To be painted up was to be classed with the savages, and any foolish virgin who did so was immediately ostracized from all the afternoon teas and the gossip that these teas entailed.

Nowadays the young ladies seem to vie with each other in dabbling on that artificial complexion so much admired, and thereby displaying that rosy, healthy look so often attributed to Palm Olive. This may be all very well, but if you only knew how injurious it is I am sure that you would not use it. If there are any who would like to break themselves of this habit but who find it hard to do so, I would give them this simple formula. Mix with your rouge and lipstick three ounces of pure lye and ten drops of sulphuric acid. Apply this concoction every day and I can assure you that in a little while you will not want to use it any more.

Although I am not well versed in the subject, I think that young couples still practise osculation, and I am sure that the young gentlemen would much rather get down to facts and not have to wade through paint, powder, and lipstick. As I overheard one young gentleman remark when he was asked if that was a new girl he had, "Oh, no, just my old one painted over." So you see girls what the young men think of you. If you are homely and wish to entrap some young man, it is not necessary to camouflage, because Love is blind. Take my advice, use all the powder you want to, but for goodness sake don't put on the cosmetics so thick that you have to scrape them off with a hoe. However I will agree with you girls in one thing—by using rouge and lipstick you certainly save the surface and you save all that time it takes to wash your face. Next week I shall write on the subject "Why are boys such cheap-skates?"

Yours frantically,

Lydia E. P. Crabbe.

Any letters sent to Miss Crabbe, McGill Daily will be answered.

Dear Miss Crabbe,

I am in great difficulty and am trying to make a very ponderous decision. Won't you please help me? You see I am in love with a medical student who loves all blondes, but will not tolerate brunettes. Now I am very much a brunette. Would you advise me to change the colour of my beautiful locks by the use of peroxide, or shave them off and buy myself a wig?

Broken Hearted.

Ans.

My dear, forget all about this medical student of yours. If I were you I would not worry about his slighting me because it is probably force of habit that causes him to cut people. Anyway, what does it matter if gentlemen do prefer blondes, they always pay their alimony to brunettes. As for changing the colour of your hair, you are really too young to dye. To die for one's country is a blessing, but to dye for a medical student is utter foolishness. Therefore, my dear, forget about being "off colour" and above all, don't get a wig. That would give people a false impression of you.

Dear Miss Crabbe,

I am not in the habit of taking advice from anyone—let alone a newspaper correspondent—about my private affairs, but in this case if you would give me any I might use it. I am thoroughly disgusted with the meek McGill, as they have no originality what ever in choosing entertainment for their lady friends. I have been to every show, every hotel, every night club in Montreal, every week since I have been here, and have had more than enough of them. What can you suggest in the way of a novelty?

Yours (hopelessly)

Daphne Deirdre Dobbins.

P.S. Do you think they will ever have anything so original as bull fights in America?

Ans.

I am afraid that you are like that baby who had everything that this world could provide, but cried because it could not have the moon. The only way I can think of for you to see stranger things than you have seen is to have the delirium tremens, but this no boy can provide. If you really want a novelty, why don't you start and treat the boy friend? I am sure that has never been heard of before. If you are tired of outdoor activities, why don't you stay home on an evening and play parlour rugby or fiddle-winks? The former game is becoming a popular pastime among McGill co-eds this year, so try it. As for bull fights in America, I don't think they would go over as the American absolutely has no use for bull.

Dear Miss Crabbe,

What is necking?

Ans.

I'm sure I don't know.

College Comment

SARTORIALLY SANE

The university man, acknowledged oracle in the world of men's wear, has returned to sanity in dress, according to surveys of three widely separated educational institutions.

In the north, Yale university was selected as a typical university in a "university town." In the south, Vanderbilt was chosen, for the same reason. And for a middle ground, Princeton was selected.

In all of these observers found that almost unanimously, the students had reverted from the "slouchy" college tendency of recent years, to a tidiness and care in dress that was surprising.

In all the colleges, the starched collar was found to be so nearly universal that it appears to constitute almost a uniform. The comfortable low, plain starched varieties were most in demand in both North and South.

Extreme cuts of trousers, absurd shirt, collar and tie combinations and other freakish effects have disappeared—"Daily Trojan."

AMERICAN INFLUENCE

Canadian college girls use more rouge than the British girls according to a group of women students who visited the suggested onto. One of the visitors suggested that the situation was a result of American influence.—Cornell "Daily Sun".

Against Beer

The Editor, MCGILL Daily.

Dear Sir:—Beer in the Union! To some it may be lovely, to others odious while to a few it does not even matter what happens. These last are the students to whom nothing matters so why should anyone concern themselves about them? Whatever public opinion may be, the important thing is "Should beer be sold or not in the Union? There are excellent arguments in favour and against such an innovation. The main argument for the sale is: why should not the Union have the money which is daily spent in a familiar institution, on McGill College Avenue. Against it let it be said there is no need for the present high standing of the Union to be lowered merely to accommodate those who will drink beer continually and would just as soon obtain their liquid refreshment at the "Pig."

Of these two sides of the question, I believe the latter carries much more weight with the majority of McGill students. After all the Union has succeeded so far without the sale of beer. Why should it not continue to do so?

Opinionated.

Elections and Free Beer

Dear Sir:—"Step up, boys! Drinks are on me. But don't forget the Day of the Month!"

Such cries, Sir, are likely to pervade the Union just around election times, if we are to have beer here. Reading your editorial this morning on "Approaching Election," and also the correspondence on beer and the No. 2 so ably headed "To Beer or not to beer," I have been sorely troubled at what must be the inevitable outcome of taking such a drastic step—the sale of beer in our Union.

Sir, picture to yourself the Grill room, as a polling booth on election morning, with all sorts of telegraphers coming in and corrupting and misleading the scrutineers and the poll clerk with offers of free beer. Our elections, would then degenerate from a fair and square system of electing executive officers to fill various positions on the campus, to a method employed by a certain type of candidate in public elections.

In the event of a refutation of this argument on the grounds that such conditions are impossible at a University, kindly take note of the following report in a recent issue of a Glasgow newspaper.

Free Beer And The Rectorial

Unionist Speaker's Allegation

The cause of the large measure of support accorded to Mr. R. B. Cunningham-Graham at the recent contest for the Lord Rectorship of Glasgow University was due to the fact that a liberal supply of free beer had been distributed by the Nationalist Party amongst the male students.

Such was the remarkable allegation made at a Unionist meeting in Largs addressed by Miss Gavin, who described as a graduate of Aberdeen University, and a member of the staff of the Glasgow office of the Unionist Party.

Thanking you, Sir, I remain,

Yours since-beerly,

A Glasgow Redskin.

COLLEGE SNAGGERS

by NOJI FUJIMURHASHA

To the Editor who must take all kinds of dirt and say nothing.

Dear Sir,

My wish have been realized for I have had a delightful interview with a most estimable R.V.C. reporter. Last Sunday my telephone rang jungle-jungle and a sweet voice at end say "Hello-yah. Is that the baboon-faced Fujimurhasha? Sure, I snicker, not knowing what a baboon are, I place myself at your disposal. Well, she vociferate, I want you to come this afternoon to the R.V.C. at 4 p.m. standard time, tea will be served but bring your own sandwiches and sugar. Hmm, I chortle to myself, she must think I am a sugar daddy, but never never mind, there are many a slip twixt the cup and the false teeth. Right-o, I say, using expression I hear Honorable English use, I shall transport my person there. When I get there I am met with many sneers from the ladies that litter up the place. "See what the cat brought in," say one advertisement for hallolosis, "aint he a peach say another, 'He tickles my fancy,' says another, poking me in honorable ribs, I could use him as a door mat. Ouch, I osculate, if you will let me go I will treat you all at the tea room. This they all except and each said they were going to invite a friend. That party will hold me broke for 6 months because I know how them girls eat. Well at last along come the decoy what pestered me on the telephone. She say, my name is Euphemia Saphronia Winkle, at your service. I shall call you Saphro for short, say I, thinking of famous insect powder. Now tell me, Mr. Hash, say she, mistaking me for restaurant menu, who did you vote for in the Untidy States elections? Hoover, I yell, because it are the best vacuum cleaner on the market. So that that is your religious belief, eh? Oh no, I ejaculate, I have no religion, I am a Aethist, thank God. Well that is bad, she say, I was just going to ask you what abomination you belonged to. Oh if that is what you want, I reply, I spent 6 years at Queen's. Did you like it there, she demand? Sure, but they kicked me out. They found out that I wasn't a steam-fitter. But I are having a much better time at McGill. Well, after Saphro talked a lot without saying anything, she served the tea. Help, I roar, the coffee that this tea is supposed to be tastes more like cocoa. Well, if you don't like it you can lump it, say she, probably referring to the sugar. So I left, but shall never forget how them girls at the door got me into trouble. They always get us into trouble, even to mother Eve, but as the Honorable Bible say, the trouble in the garden of Eden was not caused by a green apple, but by a green pair.

Yours till it snows ink,

Noji Fujimurhasha.

her rights as a Canadian without becoming an American; whereas an American woman married to a Canadian is a Canadian and an American, and can vote in both countries." She reported that quite a few girls had refused to sign the petition re nationality because they believed that a woman should embrace her husband's opinions and beliefs to preserve unity in the home, "thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God," idea.

Only one or two objected to the equal rights petition and these on the score that as a man usually pays for a woman it was only fair to allow him some extra rights in compensation.

The executive of the M.W.S.S. undertook to approve these petitions if the required number of signatures were secured, and as this has been done, these petitions may be taken, officially, to represent the opinion of women students at McGill.

"Surely not, sir; maybe it's one of those vitamin bees you read so much about."

In view of the increased activity in intra-mural sport, the above schedule is published in the hope that every student in the University will consult it carefully and seriously consider participation in the one of sports. It is the privilege of the students to take advantage of the facilities afforded them in the way of participation in athletics, and it is especially important in view of the lack of regular class physical training. The sedentary occupations of students during the winter months are not beneficial to the general health of the students and only activity in some sport will serve to offset this.

Winter sports are not included in the above schedule, but announcement of this branch of athletics will be published in the 'Daily' shortly, and those who intend joining the winter outing clubs should look for these notices.

Winter Sports Arouse Interest

Coach Burridge Addresses Winter Outing Club

The question of associate lady members was brought up at the annual meeting of the Winter Outing Club yesterday in the Union, and met with the approval of the members.

A large number of new men turned out, some of whom have already started training. The chairman, E. H. Johnson, gave a short account of last year's activities.

Coach Burridge then spoke, stressing the fact that he was interested chiefly in the activities of the average skier, and not those of the team.

Various appointments were made; George Sumner to look after the activities of the ski-jumpers; Ewart Hinds, sub-manager in charge of speed skating; and Bill Budden, John Francis, and Chick Davies, a committee to take charge of novice skiing.

Buddies for 1929 were distributed, at the price of 10c. They may be obtained from Budden, Francis or the club executive.

Bill Thomson, former McGill Skier spoke of the newly-formed Red Birds Ski Club, of which he is president, and he extended an invitation to those interested to attend the meeting next Monday afternoon at 5.

Water Polo

The following sophomores are urged to be on hand for the game against the freshmen on Friday at 5.30 at the K. of C. pool: Austin, Edson, Hutchinson, Sprenger, Taylor, Veitch. Also any others with no matter how little knowledge of polo as long as they can swim.

(Continued from page one.) vociferous in its reception, but they seemed to confuse the words Canadian and American. As the team entered the hall, the band started playing Yankee-Doodle, and the wall was covered with signs referring to "our American Visitors."

According to Alexander, the quaintest University they had visited was Aberystroth, in Wales; the most picturesque, he writes, was St. Andrews in Scotland. At the former, Mr. Stanley Baldwin was chairman of the debate.

While in Edinburgh, Alexander met "Brude" Bazin, captain-elect of this year's football team. "Brude" was anxiously waiting for the results of the McGill-Varsity game, and after he had received word, both the McGill students forced Kenny of Toronto to take part in the celebration.

The team at the time the letter was written, was at Oxford and from there proceeded to Cambridge with the results noted above. London is to be their next destination, where they will debate twice before completing their tour. Alexander is returning to McGill after the New Year, while his partner, Kenny, is remaining in England for the rest of the winter.

"PINAFORE" WORK WELL ADVANCED

(Continued from page one.) formances. Moreover, the piece staged a comeback and ran for 700 nights at the London theatre, a miracle in those or even these days. Since then "Pinafore" has continued to be a successful and popular number among companies, professional and amateur, producing English operas.

A list of the leading characters taking part in this production has already appeared, and the complete list of those in the chorus will be announced soon.

A list of those selling exchange tickets will be found on page four.

Fencing Notes

'Wonders will never cease,' a time worn adage maybe, but the Fencing Club last night found that it still applied when McKergow turned up with the new equipment. His reception was warm to say the least. In fact it was so warm that he had trouble in getting off with a whole skin. The men simply poured all over him in their attempts to obtain some of the new stuff. The club's material was augmented by about fourteen masks and several jackets, by the new additions. Men may now be sure of getting enough equipment to insure their safe from the danger of eating several feet of nice cooled steel. It was a real pleasure to see all the men equipped properly for once. It reminds one of the old song with the epic words—

'Safe at last and the danger past'.

But there is still a fly in the treacle-pot. As yet the whole club is not fitted out with lockers. To be sure there are as enough there for the men but unfortunately they do not all function properly. Still it pays to be optimistic, time will bring about a change. At least we hope so.

Pool Number 2 was finished last night. Judging from the fencing displayed in the two pools so far completed, McGill's opponents will have some very good men to compete with. Debarats who won the pool, ended with only five hits scored against him but only after some stiff work. Second was de Chazal with nine scored against him. Both Debarats and de Chazal fenced brilliantly in order to keep down their score. Henneman, third man, came very close to the de Chazal, as he was downed by only one more hit than him.

Friday's bouts will be between the men who came first second third, fourth and fifth in pools number one and two. This means that Debarats will meet Brown, and de Chazal will meet McKergow, and Henneman Donald, and Watson will meet Boisenneault, DeMontigny and Clay respectively. Competition between these men promises to be fierce, as scores are ranking pretty close. As the bouts will be for five points only, they will be much more strenuous than ordinary ones. These pools will be an indication as to what our competitors will be up against, and so are proving of interest.

Men will now be able to get practice outside of the McGill club, as arrangements have been made with the Sword Club and the M.A.A.A. to enable members from the three clubs to hold practices conjointly on Wednesday and Friday. All men who wish to take advantage of this opportunity of meeting other men with different styles are asked to report to McKergow as soon as possible. These practices will be held at the other club's places.

The scores for the second pool are: Debarats 5, de Chazal 9, Henneman 10, Donald 13, Watson 13, Gilroy 14, Mayroff 15.

Swimming

The following men are requested to be at the Knights of Columbus Tank at 5.30 Friday, in order that a team may be picked for the meet with M.A.A.A. on Wednesday, Dec. 5. Anderson, Austin, C. Bourne, M. Bourne, Bowman, Church, Charlholm, Davis, Dolg, Gibbons, Knorr, Lyman, Payton, Poole, Shackell, Shaw, Southam, Sprenger, Taylor, and any others desirous of making the team.

Many biographies have been issued within the past few days, and the board is anxious that these be returned within the coming week so that this part of the work may be copy read, and considered complete before the club write-ups are submitted. These forms may be obtained from O. Markham, Arts III, H. Grundy, Law II, W. Thomas, Sci. III, G. Boright, Comm. III, W. Pitcairn, Dent II, W. McLeod, Med. I, B. The work of producing the annual is now well in hand according to the editor-in-chief and nothing remains but for the students to co-operate with the members of the board.

SPECIALTIES TO FEATURE REVUE

should be a rather radical departure from former years. Skills will be shorter, and enough individual talent will be introduced to give the show the atmosphere of a genuine modern revue. The usual monotony of skit and musical number will thus be broken.

Music has always been a feature of the McGill show, and this year will be no exception. Bram Rose, musical director, has been interviewing song writers all this week and strains of catchy lifting tunes have emanated from the consulting chamber.

Campbell Merritt of Architecture 2 will be in charge of scenery. Merritt is known as an artist of no mean ability and this very important part of the production will be in good hands. For those stage-aspiring students who have not as yet found their niche in the revue, a consultation with one of the heads of departments in the production or with producer Binnie, should be of great advantage both to the show and to themselves.

Plan To Address School Children

Dr. Eve Announces Series Of Four Lectures

During the Christmas season, professors in the Departments of Physics and Chemistry will deliver a series of four lectures and experimental demonstrations for boys and girls. Dr. A. S. Eve, Director of the Macdonald Physics Laboratory, announced yesterday. These lectures will be illustrated with suitable models, experiments, and lantern slides. Although the series has been arranged primarily for children between the ages of ten and fifteen, adults may come if they wish.

The first lecture, entitled "Things That Wave," will be delivered by Dr. D. A. Keys, on Saturday, December 22nd. Dr. T. C. Barnes, who will take as his subject, "Antics of Ants," will be the speaker on Wednesday, December 26th. At the third lecture, which will be held on December 28th, Dr. A. V. Douglas will give an address on "Blue Giants and Red Dwarfs." Dr. W. H. Matchler will be the speaker at the concluding lecture, which will take place on Saturday, December 29th. Dr. Hatcher's topic will be "Alchemy." All the lectures are to be given at 7.15 in the evening. The first three will be held in the Macdonald Physics Laboratory, while the fourth lecture will be given in the Macdonald Chemistry Laboratory.

The price of a group of four tickets for the four lectures is one dollar. Tickets for separate lectures will not be sold. The tickets are transferable, provided the correct ticket is presented for the corresponding lecture. All those wishing to attend must apply to the Director Macdonald Physics Laboratory, on or after December 1st and must enclose a cheque with their application.

Extra-Mural Lectures

Department Arranges Series of Four At Quebec

The Department of Extra-Mural Relations has arranged a series of four lectures to be given next March in co-operation with the Quebec Municipal Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire.

On four successive Fridays, McGill professors will speak. Professor R. de L. French will have his subject "The Romance of the Post," upon which he is an authority. Dr. F. C. Harrison of the Department of Bacteriology, will speak on the "Short Stories of Kipling." Professor Traquair of Architecture will speak of "Old Houses and Cottages of the Province of Quebec," and Professor Caldwell will discuss "The Place of Canada in the World of Today."

Resumes Activities

Arts '30 Debating Club To Argue On The Beer Problem

The Arts '30 Debating Club resumes its activities for the coming year next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Arts Building, when the vital question of selling beer in the Union will be discussed and argued upon. A. Mitshesky and T. I. Levine will uphold the affirmative of this momentous question, while B. Calhoun and G. Hunter will present their views from the negative aspect.

This question is a popular one at the present moment throughout the University, and some very pertinent points for both sides of the issue should be forthcoming at the debate. A heated discussion is expected to take place.

Canti Film Being Shown Today For Third Time

Owing to the general interest aroused by the Canti film which was shown on Tuesday at the Moyse Hall and last night before the members of the profession there will be another opportunity for those who were unable to be present to see this film today at 2 o'clock in room 250 of the Biological Building. All those interested are invited to be present.

The film shows the growth of normal and diseased cells, and the effect of radium irradiations on them. In studying these under the microscope, it was found very difficult to observe the changes which took place slowly. Accordingly the moving picture camera was brought into use, and the changes speeded up as much as 900 times. Since the cells are magnified approximately 70,000 times, the changes are very noticeable. The film was made in England, and was bought by the Canadian Medical Association, who are loaning it to the various medical centers as part of their post-graduate educational.

BETWEEN OURSELVES

A Series of Short Reviews of Campus Activities

The Students' Society

Officers for the current year: President—H. Paul Melanson. Vice-President, President of the Union—Fred E. Weldon.

Representatives

Arts—Lowell C. Carroll. Commerce—James P. Manion. Dentistry—Wallace I. Whitehead. Law—Allan A. McNaughton. Medicine—Ward B. Allan. Science—H. Robert Montgomery. Theology—Victor C. Rose.

Editor-in-Chief of Daily—John S. Smith. Secretary-Treasurer—Gilbert H. Fletcher. Comptroller—Asst. Registrar J. W. Jenkins.

Previous to the year of 1908 student affairs were in the hands of the undergraduates societies and might have been described as haphazard. The conduct of the students was under the control of the Principal and it has been said that his rulings were not very popular with them. Athletics were controlled by the Athletic Association with whom sat representatives from the Faculty. From this state of affairs emerged the society known as the Students' Society of McGill University.

Of this society the executive body was the Students' Council in which was included representatives from the faculties of Medicine, Arts, Science and Law, together with the President of the Rugby Club, President of the Hockey Club, President of the Track Club, President of the Union, and President of the Students' Society. In these early Councils the athletics of the students were controlled but this duty was turned over to the Athletic Board which holds to the present date.

From time to time extra members were elected to the Council until it now includes the Editor-in-Chief of the Daily, together with representatives from Dentistry, Commerce and last year Theology was granted a seat. It is interesting to note that in former days the Secretary-Treasurer, a salaried official, was a member of the undergraduate body.

As the constitution of the Students' Society now stands it is:

"An association of undergraduates formed to exercise general control of all undergraduate activities and the relation of the undergraduates with the University subject to the University statutes and the jurisdiction of the corporation and the several faculties."

This control is exercised over sixteen activities the chief of which are the Union, the Daily, the Annual, the Red and White Revue, The Choral Society, and the Band. The control of the students' behavior is vested in the Students' Council which acts as a Court before which any student may be called to account for a misdemeanor.

Membership is open to all men undergraduates of the University and of the Affiliated Theological Colleges who pay the universal fee. Graduate students may be members, on paying the fee, if they are undergraduates of any of the faculties.

"The Council shall receive from the University all sums payable from the fees and shall divide the sums as follows:—

Council $1.50, Union $3.00, Daily $1.50, so that in reality the Society has but $1.50 from each student with which to run its affairs, together with the fees for the Union and the Daily which come under its immediate control."

An Annual Meeting of the Society is held in October when the financial statement is brought before the students, and the Semi-Annual Meeting is held in March at which the various committees make their report. Special meetings may be called by the President or by a written request signed by twenty-five students. At each of these meetings one hundred students shall form a quorum.

The constitution of the Students' Society may be changed by a two-thirds vote of a General Meeting. At the present time there is a Select Committee, with Gordie Nalrn as Chairman, who are considering some changes in the constitution which will be brought before the students at the next meeting.

(Next: The McGill Union).

Physics Colloquium

Mr. H. W. Harkness, B.Sc., will speak on "Some Hygrometrical Problems with reference to cold storage building materials, and Gas Analysis," this afternoon at 6 o'clock in Room 210 of the Macdonald Physics Building. This is the eighth special graduate lecture of this session.

MCGILL Daily is printed by the Herald Publishing Company Limited for the Students' Executive Council of McGill University of which Gilbert H. Fletcher is the Secretary-Treasurer, at the office 690 Sherbrooke St. West.

Plans For Prom All Completed

Final Arrangements Now Made For Junior Fixture

Final arrangements for the many details of the Junior Prom were made at a very important meeting of the committee held last evening. All the tickets have now been sold and returns brought in.

Special notice was given that music will begin for the first dance at nine o'clock sharp, to provide for five dances before the first supper at eleven. The second supper will commence at twelve o'clock and at two thirty a.m. strains of "Home sweet Home" will announce the closing.

It was erroneously announced in yesterday's Daily that the Dutch atmosphere would include the serving of De Guyper's gin at the supper sittings. Sufficient Dutch effects have been arranged for to eliminate the necessity of imbibing it in this beverage, despite the disappointment which some students may feel.

Contrary to the practice of former years, the favours will take the form of menus rather than expensive gifts. Possibly this will lessen the crowding usually experienced in the first supper sitting.

Patrons and chaperons who will be present are as follows: Col. and Mrs. W. Bovey, Mrs. Vaughan, Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Marben, Dr. and Mrs. Ira MacKay, Mr. and Mrs. Corbett, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Walsh.

Notices

Notices must be legibly written on one side of the paper only and must be in the McGill Daily office before eight o'clock on the night previous to publication. Brevity is essential. Under no circumstances will notices be accepted over the telephone.

REVUE CONTRIBUTORS

Bram Rose, musical director of the Red and White Revue of 1929 will meet those who wish to see him about music and lyrics on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of this week at 5. Make an appointment by attaching your name to the list posted in the lobby of the Union.

INTERCLASS HOCKEY MANAGERS
A meeting of interclass hockey managers will be held in the Lounge Room on the second floor of the Union on Monday December 3rd at 5 o'clock.

It is essential that all managers be present. If the class manager cannot be present, he is requested to appoint a substitute.

Mr. A. A. Burridge will be present and will give the details of plans for this year's interclass hockey.
